Product information

- Model: Playmaker 20-inch Soccer Coaching Whiteboard

In everyday training, it's often important to be able to explain exercises without much effort. That's exactly what a soccer training board is designed for: game situations can be quickly sketched out, adjustments remain easy to follow during discussions, and organization stays clear even with changing group structures. The 20-inch version offers a prominent display area without being unnecessarily bulky in day-to-day club life.

For coaches working with youth teams and club teams, this size is particularly convenient when content needs to remain visible to multiple players at the same time.
