Especially in club settings, at tournaments, or during intense training days, it’s important to have supplies that are neatly packaged and easily accessible. The individual ampoule format facilitates organized storage and fits well into existing support staff and team kits. For teams, schools, or staff who prefer not to transport consumables loose, the box size—containing 15 units—is thoughtfully designed.

Before use, it’s recommended to briefly review the intended purpose within your own team’s organization.
