In hockey, in particular, there's a need for clothing that's practical and easy to use outside of direct equipment. This jacket is primarily designed for club players and teams looking for a clean, sports-oriented solution for travel, warm-ups, or breaks between training sessions. The senior fit classifies this model as adult-sized, while size S represents a correspondingly more compact option within this category. As a result, the jacket fits well into structured training routines, the locker room, and the club's uniform look.

When making your selection, it's worth taking a quick look at the desired fit within the senior sizes.
