Product information

The FATPIPE HEADBAND LAUREL is a headband designed for floorball and training that keeps hair out of your face and helps keep sweat under control during everyday play. In the white version with black accents, it pairs well with training and game apparel and effortlessly complements your gear.

- Product Type: Headband for sports and floorball
- Intended use: Training, games, and warm-ups indoors
- Fit: Snug fit for a secure feel while running and changing direction
- Function: helps keep hair and moisture out of your face
- Color: white/black

Especially during regular club activities, it's often the small pieces of equipment that make all the difference in comfort. A headband like the FATPIPE HEADBAND LAUREL is particularly useful for players who value a clear field of vision and a tidy, comfortable fit during intense sessions. Whether warming up, making quick changes of direction, or during longer training sessions, your focus stays on the ball and your movements rather than on hair getting in the way.

When choosing a headband, it's worth considering the desired fit: a snug fit for active play or a slightly looser fit for warm-ups.
