The PLAYMAKER 14-inch Basketball Coach's Whiteboard brings structure to discussions on the sidelines and in the gym. Especially during team practice, in school settings, or during timeouts, it's important to have a visual aid that's easy to understand and ready to use with minimal effort. The 14-inch model offers a convenient size for displaying tactics, running routes, and set plays in basketball.

- Product Type: Basketball Coach's Whiteboard
- Applications: Training, game strategy sessions, and coaching
- Size: 14 inches
- Usage: Suitable for sketching plays and lineups

Product information

- Usability: Compact size for quick use on the sidelines
- Target Audience: Coaches, teams, schools, and clubs

In basketball, information often needs to be conveyed clearly in just a few seconds. That's exactly why a coaching board of this size is so practical: It's easy to carry and still provides enough space to clearly sketch out plays, press variations, or throw-in scenarios. This is particularly helpful in youth and club settings for visualizing plays and implementing instructions directly in motion during practice. Such a board is also a useful tool for schools or teams with frequently changing groups, as it makes discussions clearer and more organized.

The 14-inch size is ideal if you're looking for a compact coaching board for regular training sessions and brief breaks in play.
