In hockey, it's not just about protection—it's also about how balanced the helmet feels when worn. The combination of R3FLEX Protection and double-density foam is designed to manage impacts in a controlled manner, while the 3D-molded inner lining fully envelops the head. Added to this is a low, sleek profile that looks modern and doesn't add unnecessary bulk on the ice. The ventilation system ensures a comfortable fit as the pace and intensity of the game pick up.

To ensure a well-coordinated gear selection, the size S helmet should fit snugly without causing pressure points.
