The CCM Tacks XR Pro are designed for performance-oriented players looking for advanced upper body protection, anatomical mobility and lightweight comfort during intense play. The anatomical Tacks fit is close to the body and provides reliable coverage without restricting natural movement. Reinforced protective elements on the shoulders, sternum, spine and biceps help absorb impact while maintaining mobility and comfort. The lightweight, segmented construction and ventilated materials support good air circulation and freedom of movement throughout the game. Technology & Performance: Anatomical Tacks fit: Body-hugging fit profile for a balanced combination of protection, comfort and mobility. Molded shoulder caps: Reinforced shoulder protection to absorb impact during body
