- Other sizes: JR and SR available

Blade guards are especially useful for youth players, when skates are frequently packed and unpacked and moisture remains on the blades after time on the ice. The reinforced Pro-Dry design is built for regular use and helps protect the blades during everyday use—whether on the ice, in the locker room, or in your bag. This is especially practical during training, when equipment is used multiple times a week and durable features make all the difference in daily use.

For a snug fit, the size should match the skate or blade length. In this version, the blade guard is designed for YT sizes CH9 through CH13.
