Especially in club play, it's crucial that equipment is quickly ready for use again and provides the familiar skating feel. A blade holder like the BAUER TUUK EDGE plays a central role here because it securely guides the blade on the boot, directly influencing stability, cornering, and pressure build-up on the ice. If you're already using the LS Edge system, this 254-mm version will keep you close to your skate's familiar setup.

Before installation, it's worth taking a moment to check the holder system, length, and boot to ensure the replacement holder fits seamlessly with your existing setup.
