BLADETECH EDGE blades in 263 mm are sold as a pair for replacing blades on compatible skate frames. Especially in everyday club use, when blades are subjected to regular wear and tear or when new blades are needed before the ice season begins, the correct length is crucial for a smooth skating feel and a precise fit with the boot.

Product information

- Packaging: Pair
- Application: Replacement of worn or damaged blades
- Installation: Fits only compatible frames of the corresponding size

With a blade of this length, it's not just about replacement—it's also about consistency on the ice. Anyone who trains regularly or values familiar turning behavior and stable pressure transfer during games knows how important an exact blade length is. The EDGE model from BLADETECH is therefore primarily aimed at active players in training and game situations who want to keep their setup in top condition rather than compromise with worn-out parts.

Before installation, the 263-mm length should be checked against the chassis and skate size.
