AYCANE KOMBI HOSE BLADE W WOMAN are cut-resistant pants for female ice hockey players, specifically designed for women in terms of fit and protection. On the ice, it's crucial that protective gear stays in place and moves with you. That's exactly where these pants come in: The elastic construction ensures a snug, athletic fit, while the tailored women's cut better meets the needs of many club players compared to general unisex options. The sock loops help keep your gear neatly in place, which is especially convenient during regular practices and quick changes in the locker room.

When choosing a size, it's worth referring to the familiar SR fit of your other base layers.
