The CCM PADDED SHIRT REF is a padded shirt designed for use in hockey, specifically for referees and other roles on the ice where protection and freedom of movement are equally important. Available in black and in a senior size, it fits well into the routine of regular games and practices.

- Product Type: Padded hockey shirt
- Intended use: Referee

Product information

- Protection: Additional padding in the upper body area
- Fit: form-fitting; can be worn under other equipment
- Color: black
- Age group: Referee
- Sizes: M, L, XL

Referees, in particular, need gear that fits under the jersey, doesn't add bulk, and still provides some protection during contact, stick contact, or chaotic game situations. This padded shirt fits perfectly into that category. The design is intended to be worn directly against the body or as a base layer under other gear, ensuring freedom of movement while running, turning, and keeping up with the action.

For clubs, officials, and ambitious referees, this is a well-thought-out piece of gear when the ice demands not only a clear overview but also a cohesive equipment setup.

When selecting from the senior sizes, it helps to consider the desired fit under the referee jersey.
