Product information

EXEL EYEGUARD X100 SENIOR is a model of protective eyewear designed for hockey use, aimed at senior players during practice and games. Especially in intense indoor situations, such as deflected shots or close-quarters battles, appropriate eye protection is considered essential equipment by many teams and clubs. The black design with accents in neon green and neon orange has a sporty look and is clearly tailored to its intended purpose.

- Product Type: Protective eyewear for hockey
- Age group: Senior
- Intended Use: Training and games indoors and on the field
- Fit: Tailored to the senior category
- Color: black with neon green and neon orange
- Model: X100

In hockey, protective eyewear must fit securely and interfere with movement as little as possible. That's exactly what matters in a senior model: an unobstructed view while dribbling, a comfortable fit during fast-paced gameplay, and a design that integrates seamlessly into existing gear. This is particularly relevant for clubs, coaches, and players during regular training sessions, because eye protection is only truly accepted as part of daily routine if it remains easy to wear.

It's important to select the correct senior size so that the goggles fit the shape of the face and are suitable for the intended use in hockey.
