Product information

Especially during regular team practice, it's important to have equipment that easily integrates into existing ball sets and performs consistently on the field. This is exactly where this ball fits in: for clubs, schools, and players looking for a single replacement ball or a specific addition to their existing inventory. As a floorball ball, it is tailored to the demands of the sport and is suitable for passing, ball handling, and shots—all of which are constantly required during indoor play.

Those who want to differentiate ball colors during practice or clearly organize individual sessions can specifically incorporate the red version into existing routines.
