In floorball in particular, it's important to have clothing that naturally adapts to movements while running, changing direction, and in tight game situations. A match dress with a Ladyfit cut is therefore primarily designed for female players and teams who don't want to settle for a standard straight cut. This model blends seamlessly into the match uniform and is also ideal for clubs that prioritize a consistent team look during games and practices.

When choosing a size, it's worth considering the desired fit, especially if you prefer the jersey to be more form-fitting or slightly looser.
