Especially for goalies, it's crucial to have gear that doesn't unnecessarily restrict movements while crouched low, lateral movements, or quick reactions in the crease. That's exactly why hockey goalie pants are so important for everyday play: They form the foundation of a goalie's gear and must integrate seamlessly with the rest of the setup. EXEL's Elite model is designed specifically for club players and ambitious young goalies looking for a clean, functional solution for regular indoor play.

When choosing a size, it's worth taking a look at the rest of your goalie gear to ensure the pants fit well in combination with your leg pads and upper-body protection.
