Product information

EXEL WRISTBAND STREET is a sweatband designed for training and games that provides a more comfortable feel on the wrist during intense sessions. Especially indoors or during fast-paced games, this small detail is often more comfortable than it appears at first glance. The white design is kept simple, complemented by black-and-white accents.

- Product Type: Wrist sweatband
- Uses: Hockey, training, and games
- Color: white
- Accessory color: black, white
- Weararea: Wrist
- Function: Absorbs moisture around the wrist

Especially for club players and youth teams who train regularly, a wristband is often a piece of equipment that makes all the difference in the details. It keeps the wrist area comfortable, absorbs moisture, and helps maintain focus during the game when the pace is fast. Thanks to its understated color scheme, it pairs easily with various team and training outfits.

When choosing one, take a quick look at the desired color and how it will fit into your personal gear.
