In everyday hockey play, you need a stick that doesn't have to be replaced every time the playing surface changes. That's exactly where this model shines. The robust blade construction is designed to withstand wear and tear beyond just ice play, while the wooden shaft provides many players with a direct, familiar feel. This makes it particularly well-suited for beginners, clubs, and players looking for a durable stick for practice and recreational play.

When selecting a stick, be sure to choose the correct blade orientation (left or right) and the senior size (SR).
