Stick size: INT

The TRUE AX9 INT is an indoor hockey stick designed for youth and club players who value a quick release and a direct feel for the ball. The redesigned flex profile, featuring a low kick point near the blade, facilitates particularly fast wrist shots and quick shot release from tight spaces.

- Technology: Low-density nanoparticles in the shaft and blade
 - Functionality: Low kick point in the lower third of the shaft, near the blade

Product information

- Training benefits: easy energy build-up and explosive release upon shooting
- Construction: FiberShield formula with consistent particle distribution and stiffness
- Shaft shape: square corners and double-concave
- Grip: Soft, glossy grip with a matte face
- Curvature: TC2.5 or TC4
- Variant: INT, black, hardness levels 58 / 65 / 68, left- or right-handed

On the court, the lightweight, responsive design is particularly noticeable when the ball needs to be handled quickly under pressure. Especially indoors, where there's little time to finish a play, the racket's balance helps keep the shot sequence compact. The shaft shape fits securely in the hand and supports controlled handling during passes, receptions, and quick changes of direction.

When selecting a stick, pay attention to the curvature, stiffness, and blade orientation to ensure the stick matches your playing style and preferred ball control.
