Especially for junior players, it's important that the blade, curvature, and side match perfectly. The Willer model is designed for indoor use and is suitable for both practice and games when a worn-out or damaged blade needs to be replaced. The ABS material is well-known in indoor hockey and is well-suited for typical use on indoor floors. With curve options of 21 and 23, the blade can be tailored more closely to your own playing style—for example, when passing, receiving the puck, and playing in tight spaces along the boards.

When making your selection, ensure that the blade orientation, JR or SR size, and the desired curvature match your existing stick and your usual playing style.
