Product information

Protection size-1: SR

CCM TACKS XR SR shoulder pads are designed for performance-oriented hockey players who want to combine reliable protection with freedom of movement during intense physical play. The design is built for contact while remaining flexible enough for quick changes of direction, shots, and one-on-one battles.

- System: Max Coverage ASD Design
- Construction: molded Zotefoam® elements with extended coverage
- Protection Area: Injected shoulder caps and additional D3O® protection in the chest area
- Feel: FlexMotion construction for high mobility on the ice
- Ventilation: Targeted ventilation with the AER-TEC system
- Lining: Breathable for a dry, comfortable fit
- Age group: SR
- Sizes: S, M, L, XL

The difference really shows during gameplay, especially when speed, physical contact, and frequent position changes come together. The wider coverage provides support for high-impact areas in the shoulder and chest regions, while the flexible construction doesn't unnecessarily restrict arm movement. This is especially helpful for club players who train regularly and are looking for gear that works with them—rather than holding them back—even in tight game situations. The ventilation also contributes to this, as the padding stays airier and the comfort remains more consistent during longer periods on the ice.

When selecting a size, make sure to choose the correct SR size so that the protective areas fit snugly and mobility is maintained.
