In hockey, in particular, a well-fitting groin guard is an essential piece of equipment. What matters isn't just the cup itself, but also how naturally the model can be worn under the rest of the gear. This senior model is designed for use in active gameplay and is ideal for players who rely on a classic groin guard during fast movements, changes of direction, and tight one-on-one situations. For clubs and recreational players, this model is also a clear, straightforward choice when reliable protective gear without unnecessary extras is needed.

When selecting a model, choosing the right size is especially important to ensure that the jockstrap fits snugly under your hockey gear and doesn't get in the way during the game.
