Product information

Textile dye: black

The WARRIOR WRIST GUARD BONDERKAGE A9 is a compression wrist sleeve designed for hockey players who need additional protection around the wrist during games and practice. The dual-sided A9 cut-resistant design on both the top and bottom covers the radial artery area while staying close to the joint—which is especially important during regular training sessions and when wearing tight-fitting equipment.

- Product Type: Compression Wrist Sleeve
- Protection Area: Top and bottom of the wrist
- Technology: A9 cut protection on both sides
- Special feature: Protection in the area of the radial artery
- Fit: Compression design for a snug fit
- Color: black
- Size: S/M or L/XL

In hockey, it's not just about wrist mobility—it's also about feeling secure under the glove and sleeve. That's exactly where this model comes in: The compact, black design isn't bulky and is particularly well-suited for club players and ambitious youth players who want to strategically enhance their protective gear. Thanks to the combination of compression and cut protection, the product stays close to the body and integrates seamlessly into existing gear.

For a snug fit, choose a size where the sleeve fits snugly without unnecessarily restricting wrist movement.
