In hockey, a well-calibrated holder makes a noticeable difference with every push-off, change of direction, and pressure on the edge. That's exactly where this model comes in: Its robust construction holds the boot and blade securely together and supports precise skating performance, as required in regular training and during games. The Shift System also makes things easier when blades are replaced frequently or spare blades are used.

To find the right size, check the embossed mm length on your current holder or runner.
