NUTRIATHLETIC NA COLLAGEN PROTEIN WATER Guyana Peach Passionfruit is a low-calorie protein water for workout days when you need something light and easy to drink after exercise. Especially after workouts in the gym, weight room, or running sessions, a drink is often a better choice than a heavy shake. The Guyana Peach Passionfruit flavor offers a fruity taste.

In everyday hockey life, this is particularly appealing to club players and active adults looking for a clear, non-creamy alternative after practice. The protein content comes from collagen hydrolysate, while the energy, sugar, and carbohydrate content are deliberately kept low. This makes the drink suitable for periods when recovery is the priority, without the characteristics of a classic soft drink or milkshake.

Those who prefer a light consistency in sports nutrition will find here a straightforward option for post-workout consumption.
