Product information

Protection size-1: YT

The CCM TACKS XF PRO YT is an elbow pad designed for young hockey players who value both mobility and a snug fit during practice and games. Especially at the youth level, an elbow pad must withstand falls, contact with the boards, and stick contact during everyday play on the ice without unnecessarily restricting arm movement.

- Product Type: Elbow Pads
- Line: TACKS XF PRO
- Age Group: YT
- Sizes: M, L
- Protection area: Elbows and forearms during hockey play
- IntendedUse: Training and games on the ice
- Fit: Designed for youth players

In hockey, the TACKS line is known for its game-oriented design, which combines protection and stability with a sporty fit. This is particularly important for youth players, because the equipment should not only protect but also support them as they learn new movements. A well-fitting elbow pad stays in place during shots, body-to-body contact, and falls, helping players feel more at ease on the ice. For parents and club staff, this is a key consideration during regular training weeks.

When selecting a pad, check the appropriate YT size and how it fits on the upper and lower arm to ensure the elbow sits securely within the pad.
