Product information

Protection size-1: YT

CCM TACKS XR PRO YT elbow pads are designed for young, performance-oriented ice hockey players for whom protection and freedom of movement are equally important. The anatomical TACKS fit is snug and secure, ensuring that the pads stay firmly in place on the arm even during intense game situations.

- Product Type: Ice hockey elbow pads
- Fit: Anatomical TACKS fit
- Technology: JDP elbow cup to redirect impact forces away from the joint
- Protection area: Elbow, forearm, and biceps
- Construction: Sturdy protective construction with reinforced elements in the forearm and biceps areas
- Range of motion: Flexible design for natural freedom of movement while skating, passing, and shooting
- Adjustment: adjustable straps for a secure fit
- Variant: Protection size YT, available in sizes M and L

On the ice, the difference is most noticeable when there's a rapid succession of movements: tight turns, stick handling along the boards, or shots under pressure. The pads reliably cover the key areas without making the arm feel stiff. The inner lining ensures a comfortable fit even during longer sessions, which is especially important for youth players with regular training.

For a snug fit, choose a size that ensures the elbow pad, forearm, and bicep protection fit correctly.
