Product information

Color: black

Helmet size 1: SR

The CCM HTC 920 TACKS SR BLACK is a senior helmet with a cage designed for regular use in ice hockey, where protection, airflow, and quick adjustment must all work together. Especially in everyday club play, where equipment often has to perform well throughout long practices and intense games, a helmet that feels noticeably comfortable and is easy to adjust is essential.

- System: AER-TEC Thermoregulation System
- Lining: 3-in-1 R3FLEX protective comfort lining
- Ventilation: 3D-printed Nest Tech with AER-TEC TotalDri sweatband
- Adjustment: ADPTFIT 360, tool-free adjustment of length and width
- Protection Area: FM580 full-face grille in black
- Age Group: Senior
- Sizes: S, M, L

During games and practice, the synergy between the systems really stands out: The ventilation system promotes airflow inside the helmet, while the inner lining is designed for comfort and cushioning. This is especially helpful for players who are on the ice several times a week and don't want to make any unnecessary compromises when it comes to their gear. The ADPTFIT-360 adjustment system is also practical because it allows the helmet to be adjusted without additional tools. The full-face cage complements the protection and ensures a clean, familiar look for everyday hockey.

For a snug fit, choose the appropriate senior size—S, M, or L—based on your head circumference.
