Especially for young athletes, clothing that fits comfortably and moves with you is essential. The raglan construction reduces strain on the shoulders, ensuring comfort while changing, warming up, or waiting between games. The elastic hem ensures a secure fit without feeling stiff, and the two pockets are handy for small items needed during practice and club activities. The heat-transfer logos on the shoulder and hem keep the look clean and sporty.

The junior size range from JR S to JR XL helps you choose the right fit based on your preferences and the need for extra layers.
