Club players, in particular, pay attention not only to a stick's length and blade orientation, but also to how the ball feels on the stick when receiving, passing, and shooting. This is where the EXEL SHOCK ABSORBER in black comes in: The combination of a round shaft shape, 103 cm length, and MB blade offers direct, familiar handling, while the shock-absorber design slightly smooths out the feel of the game. This can be particularly comfortable during training sessions with frequent ball contact.

When selecting a racket, it's important to choose the correct blade orientation (left- or right-handed) as well as a shaft length that suits your playing style and height.
