- Product Type: Floorball Stick

- Flex: 2.9
- Length: 101 cm
- Shaft shape: round
- Blade orientation: Left
- Color: white

Especially for regular indoor play, it's important to have a stick that not only fits your height but also sits comfortably in your hand during tight game situations. The round shaft provides a familiar grip, while the SHOCK ABSORBER 2 designation indicates a design engineered for cushioned handling and controlled ball reception. This is a good fit for club players who are looking for consistent stick performance during build-up play, first touches, and under pressure—without having to deal with unnecessarily complex equipment.

In addition to length, the blade orientation is particularly important when making your selection: L stands for left.
