Especially in everyday club play or during regular training, a blade available for individual purchase is useful when you need to replace your current blade or deliberately adjust your playing feel. EXEL's AIR line is known for its lightweight design, which is particularly noticeable during fast ball movements, precise adjustments, and in tight spaces. The MB model is designed as a game-ready blade for indoor use and is suitable for field players seeking a seamless connection between the stick and the blade.

When selecting a blade, it's important to choose the correct blade orientation (left or right) and ensure compatibility with your existing shaft.
