EXEL E-FECT is a floor hockey blade designed for players who prioritize shape and feel when replacing or customizing their sticks. The white MB version is intended for field players in training and matches who are looking for an Exel blade in a left- or right-handed stick configuration.

- Product Type: Floorball Blade for Field Players
- Model: Exel L E-FECT MB
- IntendedUse: Floorball in training and competition
- Variant: Left or Right
- Color: White
- Compatibility: Fits shafts with interchangeable blades in the Exel range, depending on the shaft mount
- Design: Replacement or interchangeable blade

In floorball, the blade is where you quickly feel whether a stick matches your own timing. The E-FECT is therefore particularly well-suited for club players and regular training groups, where ball control, passing, and shooting must be precisely coordinated. Players who already use Exel or want to replace an existing blade will stay close to their familiar setup with this model and can specifically maintain the feel of their stick.

It's important to choose the right type of stick and ensure it's compatible with the shaft mount before making the switch.
