Club players, in particular, quickly notice whether a stick's weight and ball feel suit their own playing style. The AIR model is designed for players who want to maneuver their stick nimbly in tight situations and prefer clear feedback from the ball during fast-paced combinations. The L-shape provides a familiar foundation for many types of players, from structured build-up play to quick finishes.

When selecting a stick, be sure to choose the correct blade orientation: left for left-handed, right for right-handed models.
