The MCDAVID ULTRA-LIGHT ANKLE BRACE IN BLACK is designed for hockey players who need light, as unobtrusive as possible support for their ankles. Especially during practice and games, when quick changes of direction, stops, and tight turns are part of everyday play, it's important to have a brace that's slim and doesn't unnecessarily restrict movement.

- IntendedUse: Hockey training and regular play
- Fit: close-fitting for the ankle
- Color: black

- Additional information: SR

In hockey, an ankle support must do one thing above all else: provide support without getting in the way inside the shoe. This lightweight design is ideal for club players and ambitious youth players looking for a compact solution for regular practice sessions. The black color keeps the look simple and pairs easily with the rest of your gear.

When choosing a size, take a close look at the desired, somewhat snug fit around the ankle to ensure the brace sits securely in the shoe and doesn't slip during play.
