Product information

Textile dye: black

Textile size-1: SR

The MCDAVID knee brace with patella opening in black provides support to the knee exactly where rapid changes in direction, tight turns, and repeated stress are particularly noticeable in hockey. The open patella design relieves pressure on the area around the kneecap while allowing the joint to move freely. Especially during regular training or when returning to play after a break, this type of support is often a better choice than a simple compression solution.

- Product Type: Knee Brace with Patella Opening
- Functionality: Open cutout in the kneecap area
- Protection area: Knee joint, with a focus on guidance and support
- Intended use: Hockey training, games, and general athletic activities
- Fit: Available in sizes M, L, and XL
- Age group: SR
- Color: black

In hockey, it's not just about protection—it's also about a smooth range of motion. This is exactly where a knee brace with a patella opening shines: it supports the knee without unnecessarily restricting movement. This is particularly important for club players and ambitious recreational players who regularly accelerate, decelerate, and get down low on the field or in the gym. The black design is discreet and pairs easily with the rest of your gear.

For a snug fit, be sure to choose the size that provides the desired level of support.
