MCDavid ACTIV RUNNING SOCKS BLACK are designed for regular running training and high-intensity workouts where a secure fit, comfort, and a stable feel inside the shoe are essential. Especially in indoor sports, during endurance training, or when tackling longer workouts, a well-designed sock often makes a bigger difference than it might seem at first glance.

- Product Type: Running Socks
- Intended Use: Running training, fitness, and athletic activities involving frequent changes in movement
- Color: black
- Sizes: S, M, L, XL, XXL
- Additional information: SR
- Fit: Designed for athletic use

During training, socks shouldn't be a distraction. This is exactly where this model fits in: for players and ambitious club athletes who also incorporate running and athletic training into their routines alongside hockey. The black design has a understated look and pairs easily with various training outfits. As a running sock, this model is designed for movement inside the shoe, which plays an important role during repeated sprints, changes of direction, and longer training sessions—a common part of many teams' daily routines.

When selecting a pair, take a close look at the correct size to ensure the sock fits snugly inside the shoe.
